Readiness, Dedication, Service
Capital City Fire Rescue (CCFR) is pleased to present its 2016-2020 Strategic Plan. The purpose of this Plan is to clearly define the mission and goals of Capital City Fire Rescue while developing a guide for continued excellent service as we prepare to meet the many challenges and opportunities in providing emergency services during the next several years.

This Strategic Plan will serve as a living document and may be subject to change under our evolving economic climate. The process for developing this plan included a comprehensive review of our existing plan, survey results and extensive discussions on identified areas of improvement.

Since our department’s inception, CCFR has had a proud tradition of providing excellent customer service to our community. The growing demand for services, combined with the ever increasing costs of service delivery, make it imperative that an effective plan be put into place that will maintain the high standards expected by our community.

This document is a culmination of CCFR’s efforts to detail how it will meet the needs of the community, how it will prioritize those needs in an organized fashion. CCFR is committed to maintaining public trust through the highest levels of responsibility and accountability. We will remain fiscally responsible in our decision-making, treat every resident with the utmost dignity and respect, ensure our equipment is always in superior working order and ready to respond, and continue to perform our profession to the best of our abilities.
STRATEGIC PLAN OVERVIEW

This plan is a big picture overview of the strategic direction the department is going. It is not intended to identify task level operations. This is a basic road map to guide our decision making for the next three to five years. From this plan, an annual tactical or task oriented plan will need to be produced to identify specific tasks that will be done throughout the year to achieve these goals.

The plan will be reviewed on a regular basis to evaluate the programs and tasks we take on. The plan is also intended to generate discussion amongst the department members. How can individual members take on projects to help the department achieve its larger goals? Individual projects should support this strategic plan.
MISSION & VISION

MISSION

“We serve and protect our community from life and property threatening emergencies in a competent, professional and proactive manner.”

The mission of CCFR is why our department exists. All of our daily efforts and programs have to be tied back to this mission. The key component in our mission is to Serve & Protect our community.

VISION

“Our vision is to provide fire, rescue and emergency medical services at the highest level of excellence, professionalism and commitment to the community.

Proud of our past and embracing our future, the members of Capital City Fire Rescue will work as an effective and integrated team, dedicated to continuous improvement and maintaining a positive environment.

The department will be a model to others and the pride of the community.”

Our vision statement is our overarching picture of where we want to be as an organization. This vision is intended to support the mission of the department. We strive for a high level of excellence in all that we do and continually endeavor to improve not only operationally but as an organization.
As a department we have pride in our past; as the members that came before us built the reputation we enjoy today. We also embrace our future as it is full of challenges and adventures. We are building the reputation today our future generations will have to live by.
DEPARTMENT CORE VALUES

Team Oriented (Teamwork)
Dedicated to Service (Service)
Professional Pride (Professionalism)
Positive Attitude
Integrity

Our core values are not just some nice words that look good in reports. This is the basis of how we live and operate. For us to have any measure of success, all members regardless of rank must live up to the core values of the department. The loss of any one of these values would cripple our ability to operate in our community. No other agency in the world has the level of trust a fire department has. Trust is easily broken and takes a lifetime to build. When people are in a crisis or at their most vulnerable, they readily hand over their loved ones or possessions to our care. They know we are there to serve them and make things a little bit better with no ulterior motives or intentions.

OUR DEPARTMENT

Capital City Fire Rescue is truly an all hazards combination department. CCFR serves an area of 3,255 square miles and a population of 32,660 year round citizens. This does not include the 1 million visitors to our community during a 5 month period. Mutual aid is not a viable option as Juneau is only accessible by water or air.

CCFR responds to over 4,000 calls for service every year. We are seeing a 3% to 6% increase in call volume every year. Like most departments across the nation 80% of these incidents are medical in nature.

On a daily basis, we are staffed with 9 on duty responding personnel. This includes two ambulances and two fire engines which are staffed 24/7. May through September a transport basic life support ambulance is staffed to serve the cruise industry. These units are supplemented by our volunteer personnel on an emergency call out basis. Volunteers are a vital component in our departments operations.
