Purchases by the departments, instrumentalities or agencies which are directly operated and controlled by the Federal, State and Municipal government or a federally recognized Indian tribe are not subject to the sales tax providing the charges are paid directly by the governmental entity. The government entity pays the charge when:

- The retailer bills the government directly from a purchase order;
 - The seller must document the purchase order number
- The government employee pays by government check or warrant;
 - The seller must document the check number & entity name
- For the Federal government, a federal employee pays by government credit card and the federal government is billed directly by the credit card company.
 - The seller must document the first four digits and the 6th digit of the credit card number-see following pages for more info.
- For the State of Alaska, a state employee pays by government credit card and the State of Alaska is billed directly by the credit card company.
 - The seller must document the first six digits of the credit card number-see following pages for more info.
- For the City and Borough of Juneau, a city employee pays by government credit card and the City and Borough is billed directly by the credit card company.
 - The seller must document the first six digits of the credit card number-see following pages for more info.
- For a federally recognized Indian tribe, an employee pays by credit card and the federally recognized Indian tribe is billed directly by the credit card company.
 - The seller must document the credit card number-see following pages for more info on Central Council Tlingit & Haida Tribes of Alaska credit cards

Cash sales to employees or representatives of the government or the federally recognized Indian tribe are not exempt even though the employee may be reimbursed.

Credit card charges: The Federal Government, State of Alaska, Central Council Tlingit & Haida Indian Tribes of Alaska and the City and Borough of Juneau have instituted credit card programs to increase efficiency in their purchasing. Only specific credit card accounts that are billed directly to the government by the credit card companies qualify as sales to the government.

The Federal Government GSA SmartPay credit card program has three primary types of types of credit cards:

- GSA SmartPay Purchase Card – this account is a CBA, meaning that the federal government makes direct payment for purchases on the account.
 - Purchases made on a GSA SmartPay Purchase Account are exempt from CBJ Sales Tax.
